AUTUMN.

O, the wheat is wearing whiskers
And the corn is wear-ing silk,
And the stalks are waving tassels all so fair;
And the berries blush for pickers,
And the cows give butter milk,
And the thistledown is floating in the air.

And the argus-eyed now tater
Is a peepin' from the hill,
And the flax says, "Won't you twist me into twine?"
And the ghost-dust-covered miller
Is a-griodin' at the mill,
And the punkin is a-pullin' at the vine.

And once more 'tis Indian summer,
For the weather's smoky blue,
And the little ones are swinging on the gate;
The melon and the cucumber
Are both making much ado,
And the office-seeker's seeking o'er the state.

And we hear the loud exhorters,
For 'tis now campmeeting time,
And the chickens are a-slaying very low,
And the harvest moon gives quarters
To all who are without a dime,
And lovers stroll where gentle breezes blow.

And Jack Frost his nest has feathered,
And the squirrels are in glee,
And the thresher's hum is heard throughout the land,
And the nuts will soon be gathered,
And we'll have a busting bee,
And Nature's music beats the Rosen band.

And the elder press is grinding
All the nectar from the fruit,
And the farmer takes his swine unto the fair,
And we see the gourd a-climbing,
While the prices follow suit,
And the thistledown is floating in the air.

ANOTHER LIE NAILED.

Facts and Figures of Interest to All Voters.

THE TRUE DEFICIT OF KENTUCKY.

Shuffling of Democracy, In Its Efforts to Make Political Capital, Exposed by the Searching Rays of Truth.

The following appeared in the Glasgow (Ky.) News of late date:

"For the fiscal years 1898 and 1899 the Republican state administration collected nearly a half million dollars in franchise taxes in excess of the amounts collected from similar sources during a like period of Democratic administration, and yet the deficiency in the general expenditure fund for 1898 was $526,194.23. At the close of the fiscal year 1899 the deficit in the general expenditure fund was $625,806.73, an increase of $99,612.50 over the previous year. In the face of such a record as this the Republicans have the gall to ask the people of Kentucky to allow them to control affairs for four years longer. Is it any wonder Governor Bradley refuses to make speeches in behalf of such a cause?"

Is it any wonder that the people are losing all faith in statements emanating from Goebel sources when they are confronted with such arguments as this? Mark how plain a tale shall put this confuser of the truth down.

The law now is and for many years past has been that the revenue derived from a tax of 5 cents on each $100 of assessed values shall be set apart for the sinking fund, and shall be transferred to the sinking fund, and only withdrawn from that fund in the manner prescribed by law. The deficiency figures given by the news appear large in comparison with the figures of Democratic deficits for previous years simply because the Republican administration strictly followed the law, and its books show the actual condition of the treasury, while the Democratic administration disregarded the law in order to hide the true deficit in the general expenditure fund from the people. The difference in the methods was a matter of bookkeeping resorted to by the Democratic administration to justify it in its efforts to make capital by reducing taxes to a lower rate than the necessities of the state required.

Democratic Deficits.

Now we will give the Democratic deficits in the general expenditure fund as they would have appeared in each year from 1892 to 1895, inclusive, if the Democratic administration had made their books show the facts as the Republican administration has done.

The deficit in the general expenditure fund for the year ending June 30, 1892, as stated by Auditor Norman, was $273,118.88, but no transfers of the proceeds of the 5-cent sinking fund tax were made to the sinking fund for the months of September, October, November and December, 1891, amounting in the aggregate to $237,975.14, but this sum was used to eke out the general expenditure fund without passing through the sinking fund as required by law. If it had been properly transferred the deficiency in the general expenditure fund would have appeared as it really was, $511,094 02, instead of $273,118.88, as it was made to appear.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893, the deficit is given as $296,364.53, whereas, if the transfers of the 5-cent tax revenue had been made as required in the months of September, October, November and December, 1892, amounting to $245,830.31, the true deficit would have been $780,169.98.

For the fiscal year 1894 the Democratic auditor gives the deficit in the general expenditure fund as $326,149.60, but no transfers of the 5-cent tax receipts were made for October or November, 1893, which amounted to $231,415.38, and must be added to get the true deficit, which was $1,041,310.53.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, the deficit was given as $225,920.04, but no transfers were made of the proceeds of the 5-cent sinking fund tax for nine months in that year and to get the true deficit that would have appeared if the law had been followed, $380,665.00, the proceeds of that tax, must be added, making the deficit $1,321,805.87.

Thus it appears that during these four years an aggregate sum of $1,095,885.83 was kept out of the sinking fund to cover up deficits in the general expenditure fund and the deficits kept up notwithstanding the facts that during that period the general government refunded to the state the sum of over $660,000 on its war claims and that the auditor from time to time had to suspend payment on warrants. And yet in the face of these facts some Democrats have the cheek to ask the people to elect Goebel.—From Louisville Commercial.

LEXINGTON HERALD

Points Out Inaccuracies In Some Statements of Mr. Goebel.

A candidate for governor delivering a carefully prepared speech has no excuse for making inaccurate statements. Since the repeatedly and practically undenied statements of Captain Stone it is peculiarly incumbent upon Mr. Goebel to be strictly accurate. Yet he seems to be quite careless in his statements. We do not know how many have been deceived, how many corrected; but as mere samples to illustrate this carelessness we select these: He declared that although Governor Bradley had vetoed the election bill he had since said it was an improvement on the old law. Governor Bradley promptly denied that he had ever made any such statement. Has Mr. Goebel ever retracted that statement and given to his audiences the denial of Governor Bradley?

To justify his charge that the Lexington convention was the creature of railroads and other trusts, he announced that Mr. P. W. Grinstead, who represents a publishing house, was present at the convention. Mr. Grinstead publishes that he was on that day in Monroe county. He made certain charges as to the politics of the officers of election in Bell county. The charge was promptly shown to be a mistake.—Lexington Herald.

For Yourself In His Place.

Don't be too hard on Mr. Bryan. He declared in 1896 that it would be impossible to have higher prices and good times under the gold standard. We have higher prices and good times, the best we have ever had, under the gold standard. It must be embarrassing to Mr. Bryan. Just think how you would feel yourself under such circumstances.—Minneapolis Journal.

KEEP THEIR FEES.

The Kentucky Fiscal Court Renders Decision Affecting Circuit Clerks.

Judge Cantrill has rendered a decision in the State Fiscal Court, holding that Auditor Stone has no right to hold back fees from Circuit Clerks who are indebted to the state for fees erroneously paid them in felony cases before that act was invalid. The judgments are in favor of Circuit Clerks J. A. Craft of Letcher county, H. M. Cox of Morgan county and L. P. Mayo of Floyd county.

The decision holds that, while the Clerks should pay back the amounts erroneously paid them in felony cases, the Auditor must pay them their legal fees and risk the chance of collecting on the old account by other means

The decision affects half the counties in the state.

"I am not entitled to the vote of any man who does not favor the Election Law."—William Goebel at Harrodsburg.

"I will be as liberal as Mr. Goebel. I do not want the vote of any man who is in favor of the Election Law."—W. S. Taylor at London.

A VERY interesting conference is reported to have taken place in Frankfort recently between a committee of citizens from Louisville—Judge Barr and Mr. Alex Humphrey being two of the members—and Judge Pryor.

The Committee said that they represented no particular party, but that they had come in the interest of an honest election in Louisville, which they intended to have at all hazards.

Judge Pryor assured them the Commission would appoint reputable men, but that Mr. Joseph T. O'Neal would not be appointed, as he was too partisan, (a Brown man.)

Judge Barr suggested that Commissioner Poynte had been a member of the notorious Louisville Convention Credentials Committee and that he was somewhat of a partisan, as was Commissioner Ellis, and that possibly Judge Pryor could also be accused of a like offense.

Judge Pryor's reply to this was simply that good men would be appointed.

The Committee will know better by October 1st.

Mr. Jacob Rosier of Washington, this county, has received a patent for a voting machine. It isn't stated whether or not the contrivance will prevent the Goebel Election Commission from counting Mr Goebel into the gubernatorial chair.

A convention has been called to meet in this city on Monday, October 2d, to nominate a candidate for the State Senate. In that Convention Lewis county will have 48 votes and Mason county will have 51 votes. For reasons that have been stated repeatedly, The Ledger claims the nomination for a Mason county man for this term; and it hopes the Convention will be wise in its choice, selecting some gentleman who will reflect credit upon his District and upon himself.

The Hon. Theodore Hallam, who has been a life-long acquaintance and neighbor of Mr. William Goebel, hasn't a very exalted opinion of that person. In a recent conversation at Lexington this is what he said of him:

"Why, that man has become a common scold, and punishment far that is ducking. Does it enter into the necessary qualifications of this man who aspires to be the first gentleman of Kentucky whether any brother of mine or even I myself had served a term in the Penitentiary? It is a far more important question whether he should not be there himself.

"If any man can show me when he has ever had a thoroughly kind thought or has ever done a thoroughly kind act, I'll vote for him.

"The only way to excuse his uncon scionable lying is to say that he is crazy."

A Lost Laugh That Was Found.

Ten years ago, while indulging to a hearty laugh, John A. Jones injured the muscles of his jaw. He was unable to laugh until last Wednesday night at the theater. The audience was startled by a most unearthly roar that swelled until the building shook, the side walls bulged and the electric lights went out. The terrified audience was panic stricken. The lights were turned on and Mr. Jones explained that he was the culprit. He had found his laugh after ten years and was making up for lost time. The audience heard a sigh of relief, then settled back to witness the remainder of "Casey's Troubles."

The Snagboat Woodruff destroyed the wreck of the Virgie Ratliffe at Catlettsburg Monday.

The little pleasure steamer Ohio made the run from Point Pleasant to Cincinnati, 240 miles, in fifteen hours.

The rivers are again falling, and unless yesterday's rain was general and a great deal more than fell here they will continue to fall.

According to the reports of Pittsburgh and Cincinnati papers, no less than a dozen batteries of steel boilers have been ordered for the City of Pittsburgh, with several more propositions to hear from.

Ernest H. McKinley of Pittsburgh has closed a contract with the Howard Supply Company of Philadelphia, involving $250,000. It is for the delivery at Pittsburgh from Cincinnati of 1,000,000 railroad ties. The ties will be loaded into coal barges at Cincinnati and taken up the Ohio and loaded onto railroad cars at Pittsburgh.

Captain H. F. Hodges, United States Engineer in charge of the improvements of the Great Kanawha, Big Sandy and other tributaries of the Ohio, is now on the Big Sandy to make a trip over a great portion of the river during low water. Before returning to his office he will make an inspection trip along the Kanawha river.

Captain John Christian of the United States Snagboat E. A. Woodruff reports that as the Woodruff went up there was one man working at the wreck of the Sherley, making an attempt to get the machinery off the wreck. The workman named Captain Christian, however, that a cranaboat and a force of men would be taken to the Sherley at once, and that a real effort would be made toward stripping the sunken boat of its machinery and boilers. The wreck has been in the river almost two years. If the Woodruff removes the sunken steamer all articles of value recovered belong to the Government, and must be sold to the highest bidder.

Away back forty years ago, before the Mississippi River Commission was ever dreamed of, big sidewheel boats ran the year round from New Orleans to St. Louis, and they drew a great deal more water than the boats draw nowadays; and, furthermore, they always found at least eight feet of water. But now the Mississippi River Commission have things in such a shape that it is hard to find five feet at the bad crossings. "The Mississippi River Commission," says The Waterways Journal, "has done more to waste time, spend money, ruin the river, spoil steamboating and help railroads than any other known cause, and they don't know when nor where to quit."

STAMPING GROUND SHOOTING.

Young Son of Tom Southworth Charged With Killing Marshal Duke With the Latter's Revolver.

Georgetown, Ky., Sept. 21.—There were new developments Wednesday in the double tragedy at Stamping Ground Monday evening, in which Town Marshal Charles Duke and Tom Southworth were almost instantly killed in a battle on the street. Southworth's son (Luther) is under arrest, charged with murder. Two eyewitnesses to the affair have been found. They state that a terrible struggle took place between the three men, and the marshal was getting badly used up when he shot and killed the elder Southworth. It is alleged that young Southworth then tore the pistol from the marshal's hand and shot him through the heart with his own pistol. It was not at first known who killed Duke, as Tom Southworth's pistol was found loaded in every chamber.

At the coroner's inquest young Southworth swore that he was unarmed and fired no shot, and an unknown party was believed to have done the deed. Young Southworth was arrested at the conclusion of his father's funeral in Owen county Wednesday, and will brought to Georgetown, where he will have an examining trial Thursday.

WAR INEVITABLE.

The Afrikanders Declare That the Transvaal Will Not Yield Further to England.

IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT MUST RECEDE.

English Military Officials Are Working Night and Day Preparing for Signals to Begin Hostilities.

The Orange Free State Will Throw in Its Lot With the Transvaal—They Are Fully Armed and Prepared to Start at a Moment's Notice.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Despite all outward show of calm Great Britain was in practically the same condition Wednesday as was the United States a few weeks before the opening of the war with Spain. Beneath the crust of diplomatic reserve the military officials are working night and day preparing for the signal to begin hostilities whether that comes or not.

England is not going to be caught napping any more than the Transvaal. While Lord Salisbury is quietly at home in Hatfield house, Mr. Chamberlain is buried in work at the colonial office and double forces at the Royal arsenal and dockyards are straining every nerve to equip and transport troops to the Cape.

It may be set down for certain that Great Britain will do nothing to precipitate matters, and the colonial office is far from admitting that the cause is hopeless. The report that Great Britain had demanded the dismantlement of the forts at Johannesburg, together with a material reduction in the armament of burghers, the colonial office Wednesday would neither confirm nor deny, although it is much doubted.

The departure of the British transport Jelunga for the Mediterranean Wednesday with 1,100 troops was witnessed by a large and enthusiastic crowd.

At Woolwich, activity increases daily, especially in the ordnance department where Maxim guns, lyddite shells, balloon equipments, gas reservoirs, wagons for limelight apparatus, water carts, ambulances, army wagons and other paraphernalia of modern warfare are being hurried forward.

Advices from Cape Town Wednesday evening were to the effect that the Afrikanders declare that the Transvaal will not yield further, and that if the imperial government does not recede from its present position war is inevitable.

On the other hand advices from Bloemfontein announced the arrival there of a large number of members of the raad, adding that the result of Thursday's sitting is already agreed upon, as the Orange Free State will throw in its lot with the Transvaal, all the Free State burghers being fully armed and ready to start at a moment's notice.

Rt. Hon. Sir William Vernon Harcourt, liberal member of parliament for West Monmouthshire and former leader of the liberal opposition in the house of commons, in the course of an address to his constituents Wednesday evening in New Tredegar, said he could not read the persistent attempts of the war press to aggravate the Transvaal situation without indignation. "Great Britain," said the speaker, "can not claim general sovereignty in the Transvaal when she has only partial suzerainty, and President Kruger can not claim for the Transvaal the position of an international sovereign state. Both sides, therefore, have made allegations which can not be maintained by either."

Sir William declared that there was no casus belli and expressed the hope that a shameful catastrophe might be averted.

The Johannesburg correspondent of the Morning Post says. "The Boer preparations are as complete as the government can hope to make them. It is believed that martial law will be proclaimed on Thursday if no reply has been received from England by that time.

"It is understood that the dispatching of British troops to South Africa will be regarded as a casus belli. The Boer officers are urging the government to begin hostilities forthwith. It is felt that the Orange Free State can best be forced to action by a successful military demonstration on the part of the Transvaal."

LONDON, Sept. 21.—A special dispatch from Rome says that the Italian government, in reply to President Kruger's request for intervention, has advised him to yield.

IN BROAD DAYLIGHT.

The Bank of Palatine, Ill., Entered by a Burglar—The Cashier, Robber and a Citizen Fatally Wounded.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—The bank of Palatine, Ill., 30 miles from this city, was entered by a burglar Wednesday afternoon. F. J. Filbert, the cashier, resisted and was shot in the head. He will die. After firing at Filbert the robber rushed from the bank. He was met by H. Plagge, a citizen, who attempted to capture the robber single-handed. Plagge was shot in the head but threw his opponent to the floor and only gave up the fight when he was hammered into insensibility with the butt of the robber's pistol.

A posse chased and captured the robber near town. He was at once placed in jail under a strong guard.

The robber gave his name as Walter Lawton, but he is unknown to anybody in Palatine. He is in jail here suffering from a bullet wound in his abdomen and will die.

Henry Plagge, 70 years old, a farmer, whose intervention at a critical moment prevented the outright murder of the cashier, is at his home west of the village, cut and bruised and disabled, as a result of his struggle with Lawton, whose motive for the assault, according to his repeated statements, was not robbery, but revenge for the alleged action of Lawton's wife's affections. The story is not believed. The attack upon Filbert was made with a tack hammer and the aged cashier was struck at least a dozen times before Plagge interfered. He will die.

PRICE OF NEWS PAPER.

An Advance of a Quarter of a Cent a Pound—Book Paper Also Goes Up a Quarter of a Cent a Pound.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.— News paper has gone up a quarter of a cent a pound within the last three weeks. The newspapers of New York city, according to an official of the company which supplies all but two of the papers printed in this city, use 400 tons of paper daily, at a cost of two cents a pound. The recent sharp advance means $2,000 a day more to the newspaper or $730,000 a year over the price which has heretofore obtained. The cost of the consumption is now $18,000 a day. The tendency is to raise the price still higher. The advance is due partly to the drouth of last summer which seriously impaired the water power of the paper mills.

Book paper has also gone up a quarter of a cent a pound, and letter paper from three quarters of a cent to one cent a pound.

ODD FELLOWS PARADE.

The Finest and Largest Procession Seen in Detroit, Mich., Since the Great G. A. R. Parade in 1890.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 21.—For more than an hour Wednesday afternoon 4,500 odd fellows and their sisters of the Rebekah order were passing in review before Grand Sire Pinkerton, Deputy Grand Sire Cable and Maj. Gen. J. P. Ellacott, chief of the grand sire's staff.

It was the finest and largest procession seen in Detroit since the great G. A. R. parade in 1890. Fully a score of bands furnished the music. Street car and other traffic was suspended along the line of march, and the police kept the crowds of spectators well back on the sidewalks.

Brig. Gen. Martin, commander of the Michigan department of the Patriarchs Militant, led 1,000 members of the military branch of odd fellowship, all in full uniform carrying drawn swords. Their perfect marching, excellent evolutions and fine appearance drew constant applause from the tightly packed crowds that packed the Woodward avenue sidewalks from curbs to building fronts. Ohio sent six cantons of patriarchs; Indiana three, New York three, Pennsylvania three, Massachusetts three, Michigan three, and St. Thomas, Ont., one. Grand canton from Akron, Ohio, and Syracuse canton attracted especial attention by their numbers and perfect marching. Subordinate encampments followed the gally-attired and military-looking patriarchs with a large float representing "The Plains of Mamre." About 200 members of the subordinate encampments, a majority from Michigan, were in line. At the rear of their division came the grand encampment of Michigan in carriages.

Over a hundred members of Detroit lodge headed the third division, composed of subordinate lodges and the grand lodge of Michigan. Lodges vied with each other as to turning out the greater number of men, uniformed in some striking manner. Riverside lodge of Detroit made the hit of this division with 200 men, all uniformed in brown linen suits and caps. Colored umbrellas were carried by several lodges, adding picturesqueness to the long pageant. Two floats portraying "The Good Samaritan" and "Saul Listening to David Playing the Harp" were drawn with this division. After the grand lodge of Michigan was drawn a tremendous float loaded with children, bearing the legend, "We educate orphans." Banners in the children's hands told of the many orphan asylums maintained by the order. Women of the Rebekah branch role in 65 carriages, with a large float, illustrating "Rebekah at the well," in their midst.

The representatives to the sovereign grand lodge occupied respective carriages designated by shields hung thereon, bearing the names of the states the occupants represented.

All the states and the Canadian provinces were thus in the line.

NEW INDUSTRY.

J. A. Kenny, Formerly of This City, Interested in the Enterprise.

The following paragraph is taken from a recent issue of The Marion Ind Daily Chronicle

"The firm of Bond A Powell, Attorney Roscoe Kimple and J. A. Kenny of Converse and a gentleman from Indianapolis, have organized a company and are preparing to erect a glass factory for the manufacture of bottles at some town in the gas belt. A liberal proposition has been made them by the Matthews Land Company, and they may locate at that thriving city. The factory will employ 150 people. It is the intention to have the plant in operation by the middle of November. It is understood that Al Beebe a well known glass man of this city will superintend the plant.

Mr. J. A. Kenny, mentioned as a member of the proposed new company, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kenny, of the Sixth Ward.

OFFICIAL PROGRAM.

Dewey Reception Will Be a Handsome Souvenir Well Worth Preserving.

The preparation of the New York state official program of the Dewey receptions now in progress, and orders are received from all over the country and abroad for this great popular souvenir of the National event which indicates the interest manifested by the general public in the great reception to be extended to Admiral Dewey on his arrival in New York, September 29. The state legislative committee, of which Senator Elon Raines is chairman, has perfected arrangements for the Dewey reception

Mr George T Parker has returned from Washington where he had been in consultation with the Navy and other officials. The indications now are that from an artistic standpoint the state program will be equal, if not superior, to any souvenir program of like nature ever published. The official design adopted by the committee is an illuminated cover illustrating the life of Admiral Dewey from his entrance to the Naval Academy to the battle of Manila Bay, which is attractive and realistic. The vivid picture of the "Man Behind the Guns" is but a fitting tribute to the gallant men who fought with Dewey on that memorable May morning. The portrait of Dewey in the center, under the eagle and flags, represents the "fighting Commodore" in his uniform as Admiral of the Navy of the United States. Scenes from the battle of Manila Bay and other interesting matter, and among other features an engraved reproduction of the sword to be presented to Admiral Dewey, as well as a facsimile of his commission as Admiral, signed by the President of the United States, and sent to the Admiral on behalf of the people and Congress of his country.

Portraits of National, state and city authorities will be likewise included, the Senate and Assembly of the state will be represented by engraved portraits of the Senators and members.

Many other features, together with the full official program of the naval and land parades, will make this program well worthy of preservation as a memento of an extraordinary event in the history of the Empire State.

Orders inclosing the price, 25 cents postal note, should be sent to George T Parker, Treasurer, 253 Broadway New York, and they will receive prompt attention.

The most delicate constitution can safely use Coulson's Honey of Tar. It is a sure and pleasant remedy for coughs, loss of voice and all throat and lung troubles. Price 25 and 50 cts. J. Jas. Wood & Son.

Articles of incorporation for the Murray S ation and Johnsville Turnpike Company of Bracken county have been filed with the Secretary of State. It has $4,000 capital and J. N. Meyer is the chief incorporator.

As an external liniment of most wonderful penetrative and curative power, Ballard's Snow Liniment is not equaled by any other in the world. Price 25 and 50 cts. J Jas. Wood & Son.
